COI Updates	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • On February 27 from 9-10am Circulate San Diego, will be hosting a press release of the Vision Zero Toolkit in partnership with the COI highlighting intersections that are highest priorities within the South County and Imperial Beach. Circulate plans to have several press releases showcasing the specific regions of the county. The location is to be determined and an update will be provided at the next meeting. • Later that evening, Circulate will be hosting a Mix & Mingle to celebrate the release and for partners to get a chance to network. Everyone is welcome and an invitation is still in the works. • On March 20th in partnership with COI and Healthy San Diego, a free Healthcare Provider Training will be held at 2-1-1 Connections Center from 11am-2pm. Dr. Jane Heinig from UC Davis' Human Lactation Center, has developed a toddler behavior and feeding cue training that she will be presenting to the providers at the workshop. On that same day the COI in partnership with the YMCA CRS and NHA will be hosting a similar training but more focused on Early Childcare providers, which will be held from 2:30-5:00pm. Flyers are still being finalized and more information will be provided once logistics are complete. • The Annual COI Strategic Planning Retreat took place on February 8th. A topic for discussion was the direction of the COI and what the initiative should focus on moving forward. Many of the big takeaways can be shared at future meetings after it is presented at the March Leadership Council meeting.
