

HEALTHY SCHOOL CELEBRATIONS RECOGNITION PROGRAM

Presented by the
San Diego County Childhood Obesity Initiative

Background

The San Diego County Childhood Obesity Initiative (COI) Schools & After-School Domain is promoting healthy school celebrations and celebration policies through this recognition program. The Domain includes public health, community organizations, health advocates, and school and after-school representatives that support schools in establishing and implementing policies and programs that foster a healthy, active, thriving, and academically successful school culture, climate, and community.

Recognition Program Overview

COI seeks to recognize schools and districts that have adopted and implemented a healthy celebrations policy or procedure for their students and/or staff. The goal is to spotlight these best practices and inspire other schools and classrooms to adopt healthy celebrations.

San Diego County schools, districts, and parent groups are encouraged to:

- Nominate a school or district implementing a healthy celebrations policy or procedure
- Share details of their success with healthy celebrations

Nominated classrooms and schools will receive:

- A certificate of recognition from COI, recognizing them as a Health Celebrations Champion.
- A copy of the certificate will also be sent to the school principal, district wellness lead, and district superintendent
- A social media post on COI's social media platforms

To nominate a school or district for their adoption of healthy celebrations, please fill out this Form
